

May 29, 2020

updated August 8, 2020

Looking for PPE?

The following organizations are looking to help:

(New 08/06/2020)

Cetrix Technologies LLC supplies PPE to the State and Local Government Agencies, Schools, businesses and non-profits in Massachusetts. Large stock of COVID-19 PPE available to ship nationwide, from warehouses in LA, TX and NJ.

Project N95 is a volunteer organization that serves as the national COVID-19 clearinghouse for personal protective equipment (PPE) and other critical medical equipment. Their mission is to deliver critical equipment into the hands of frontline workers as quickly as possible. ProjectN95 is helping healthcare providers, local/state government and federal agencies by:

- Collecting fully representative data on PPE needs from healthcare providers of all types, including those that serve under-resourced communities
- Performing due diligence on suppliers and products to accelerate procurement and sourcing decisions
- Processing and validating inbound organization requests for PPE and critical equipment to intelligently match with the right vetted suppliers and products
- Coordinating with governments and other purchasers to aggregate orders and assist COVID-19 response teams with sourcing, procurement, and equitable distribution of critical medical equipment.
- Supporting equitable distribution and highlighting the role that limited access to PPEs has in exacerbating COVID-19 disparities

If you are in need of PPE, submit request for equipment to Project N95. More information is available at ProjectN95.org. If you have questions you can contact Project N95 at info@projectn95.org.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts - Reopening: Purchasing Hygienic or Protective Supplies for the Workplace - In order to operate in Reopening Phase 1 and all future phases, certain supplies are required. These resources, provided by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, are to help inform employers and employees about supplies needed.

The Association for Health Care Resource & Materials Management (AHRMM) and ECRI are working together to connect health care providers with new sources for the personal protective equipment they need. Lists of vetted non-traditional U.S.-based and overseas suppliers of PPE are updated daily and freely available for use by all health care facilities and organizations. There are also lists of companies that offer test kits, disinfectants, swabs, and related services.

AHRMM - access non-traditional domestic suppliers' lists

ECRI - helpful spreadsheets on product and supply equivalents from non-traditional international suppliers (list available for download) and other COVID-19 resources.

The Yankee Alliance works with members to reduce supply and operating expenses through aggregation of data, purchasing, ideas and knowledge. The Alliance partners with members to connect them to contracts with aggressive pricing and saving and they look to provide members and facilities with opportunities to receive discounts on personal needs too. There is no cost to join the Yankee Alliance however an application form must be completed to start receiving the benefits of group purchasing.

Please note that the Massachusetts Medical Society does not have a relationship with these vendors and has not vetted the products and services. These resources are being shared as a convenience for informational purposes only and do not constitute an endorsement or an approval by the Massachusetts Medical Society. This list will be updated as more information becomes available.

Questions?

Contact the Massachusetts Medical Society via email: dph@mms.org